NOTICE POSTPONEMENT OF NEW PRODUCT RELEASE

We would like to express our sincere appreciation for your continued support and patronage.

We regret to inform you that the release of the Signal Indicators (1S Series and 2 S series) successor products to those of Citizen Fine Device Co., Ltd., originally scheduled for October 2026, has been postponed due to delays in the procurement of certain components, which have affected our production schedule.

We sincerely apologize for the inconvenience this may caused customers who have been looking forward to the launch of these products.

We are currently working to improve both component procurement and our production system, and we will provide further updates regarding the release schedule as soon as more information becomes available.

We kindly ask for your understanding and patience in this matter.

Release schedule

Original release date: October 2026

Revised release date: January 2027

Details regarding pricing, model numbers, and specifications are scheduled to be announced around Oct. 2026.
